Dear Josh and Esther,

This is just a note to let you know Clive Spicer's address, which I finally found. He has rather disappeared from our ken in the last few years, and all I know of him lately is that he is Chief Medical Statistician, General Register Office, Somerset House, London, W.C.2.

Many thanks for your card. We were delighted to hear about Ann and Gan. I would very much like to know what you are doing with computers these days; I see Esther said on the card that you were applying them to genetical problems. Sokal and I have just got out our book on this and classification, and you may have seen it.

With very best wishes,

P.H.A. Sneath.
